Griffith Foods Acquires The Flavourworks

Griffith Foods and The Flavourworks working together to deliver delicious, nutritious and sustainable food systems across the food industry.

HERENTALS, Belgium – Griffith Foods, a global product development partner specializing in food ingredients, is delighted to announce that it has acquired the UK based food ingredient producer, The Flavourworks.

The Flavourworks will become part of the Griffith Foods European & African division, with sister sites in Belgium, Spain, UK and South Africa.

The Flavourworks is an innovative food ingredients supplier, manufacturing flavoured butters and oils, marinades, glazes, rubs and sauces for all major UK retailers and is expanding into food service markets.

For more than 100 years, Griffith Foods has enjoyed success as an innovative product development partner. It has a track record for market leading innovations, bespoke product development solutions and fast product turnaround. Griffith Foods partners with some of Europe's largest food processors, retailers and quick service restaurants.

Griffith Foods has ambitious growth plans over the coming decade. This scale of growth relies on shared values, new technologies and partnerships to broaden knowledge, expertise and fuel innovation.

This acquisition will add an additional manufacturing arm to Griffith Foods' infrastructure.

The Flavourworks has a warm, friendly, collaborative culture that mirrors Griffiths Foods own values, making this a strong partnership from the outset.

Wim van Roekel, President Griffith Foods Europe & Africa said, "We are really pleased to welcome The Flavourworks team into Griffith Foods. We have long admired their strong customer focus and their product range allows us to broaden Griffith Foods' offerings and accelerate our European growth plans.”

About Griffith Foods

For food companies around the world, Griffith Foods is the caring, creative product development partner whose people help them meet the evolving needs and desires of consumers in ways that respect and sustain the planet. As a family business for over 100 years, Griffith Foods is renowned for true, collaborative innovation, specializing in food ingredients. From farmers to customers, the relationships it forms with its partners allow Griffith Foods to create better products that are delicious and nutritious for consumers, and a better, more sustainable world. Griffith Foods is dedicated to its purpose: to blend care and creativity to nourish the world. Founded in 1919 and headquartered in Alsip, Illinois USA, Griffith Foods has grown and expanded globally to include a presence in over 30 countries.

About The Flavourworks

The Flavourworks started life more than 30 years ago as a Dorset based garlic butter manufacturer and is now based in Wincanton, Somerset. Over the years they developed into one of the most innovative food ingredient suppliers in the UK. Their flavoured butters, oils, marinades, glazes and rubs eventually find their way onto the shelves of all the biggest and best loved UK supermarkets.

The Flavourworks supplies all the major food manufacturers, producing meals for shops and restaurants with a level of expertise and high-quality produce which means they have recently been able to expand into Food Service. Having a strong development team means they pride themselves as being a ‘chef to chef’ rather than ‘business to business’ organization.
